CONTRACTING & SERVICES W.L.L.

Acongulf Contracting & Services W.L.L., established in 2003, is a Qatar-based Trading & Contracting Company specializing in providing a wide range of premium quality products and services at highly competitive prices, both in retail and wholesale. We are committed to supplying the highest quality materials and delivering exceptional after-sales service to ensure complete customer satisfaction.

Our project trading procedure is structured to maintain the highest standards. Material submittals are presented to clients through contractors or consultants for review and verification of technical specifications, reliability, and quality. Upon approval, commercial terms are mutually agreed upon, and materials are delivered according to the agreed schedule. It is important to note that material approval processes can vary depending on the customer.

Acongulf is dedicated to providing unparalleled construction management services tailored to meet the unique and individual needs of our customers. The repeat business from our clients underscores the trust and loyalty placed in our experience, expertise, and comprehensive service throughout all project phases.

We offer top-tier contracting services and engineering procurement, reflecting our superiority in the field. Over the years, we have developed sophisticated systems and procedures to ensure stringent control over cost, quality, schedule, scope, and safety. Our engineering and construction projects have frequently set new milestones in terms of scale, sophistication, and timely execution.

Referrals from previous projects are the cornerstone of our continued success at Acongulf Contracting & Services W.L.L. This achievement is largely attributed to meticulous planning, maintaining honorable relationships, delivering high-level job performance, and the unwavering dedication and hard work of our employees at every level.

Our company provides comprehensive maintenance services, including cleaning, chillers, and chiller room services, as well as installation and maintenance for electrical works. We offer yearly or monthly contracts for the maintenance of air conditioning units, including split, central, and window units. Our Service Section is staffed with a team of dedicated and highly professional technical personnel, ensuring top-quality service for all our clients' needs.
